Presenting the CuisinArt 2017 Artists

Indranil Ghosh

Self-taught artist who always questions the common beliefs. Indranil has worked on a lot of Hindu mythological and religious icons, wants to see things in different perspectives. He resorts to watercolors when he wants to relax.

CUISINART 2017

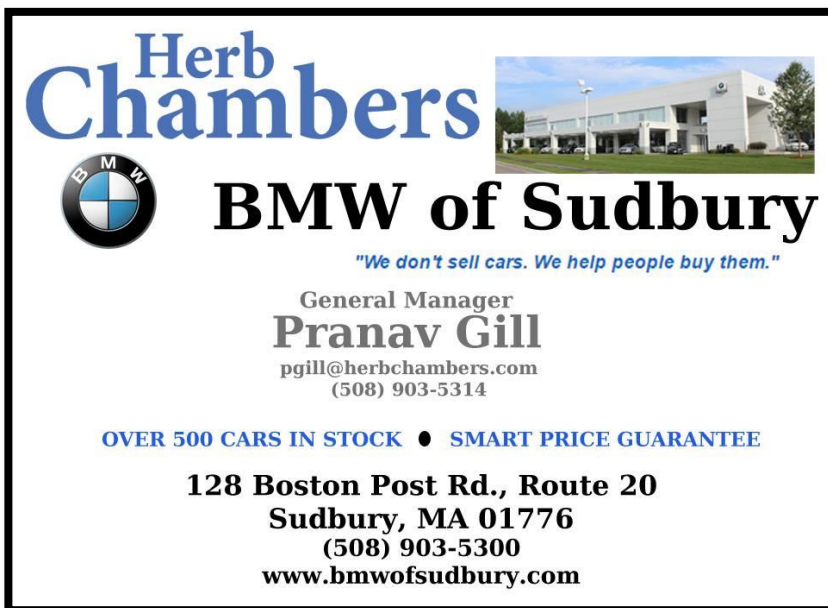

The Maynard Elks

34 Powder Mill Road, Maynard, MA

Sunday, Feb 26, 2017, 12 pm - 5 pm

CUISINART 2017 is a novel concept event from Calcutta Club USA, building on the exciting foundation of CUISINIER 2016, the live Indian culinary contest. Fusing food and art, Cuisinart will host the combination of a fine Indian style cooking competition among non-professional chefs and an exquisite art exhibition and sale by 10 South Asian artists. A spectacular Live Art painting will take place to the accompaniment of music and dance.

Indrani Choudhury

She is entirely self-taught, works in watercolors, transforming the medium beyond its typical constraints to produce the texture and richness of acrylics and oils..

Anushka Ghosh

She has been trained by a professional artist, Mr. R.D. Roy back in India and she prefers to work on charcoal, graphite and oil paints.

Dimple Shah

Dimple loves to paint nature, Buddha, God and Goddess, Meaning of life, and spirituality.

Sudakshina Bhattacharya

Sudakshina Bhattacharya is very creative, multitalented artist and works predominantly in the Acrylic medium of painting

Gopika Narula

She has a passion for different forms of art, such as real pressed flowers and leaves, pottery, mixed media items, acrylics, etc.

Anusuiya Bharadwaj

Her effort is to bring the diverse ethnicities together and spread a message of bridging the gap across cultures, of spreading love and healing in the face of hate & war & conveying oneness amongst all.

Latha Subramanian

Her passion for art existed since childhood and has participated in different events in connection with display of her works. Latha also does commission works

Garima Parakh

For Garima, art is a means to share and express a particular moment of beauty. It could be a vast landscape, a pretty flower or an abstract thought. She paints both in acrylics and oils.

Poppy Charnalia

Her art is sculpture, it has the metallic sheen of jewelry, multi-dimensional patterns and waves of clothing, linearity of architecture and it mimics layers of rocks. It amplifies the beauty of a home and yet stands pivotal.
